a civil war veteran and exempt freman, something of the death of his sister, Mrs. Ellen Senich, a widow, aged-strtythree years. The arrest is said by the neighbors to be an error of the police, for the brother and sister have lived together on the top floor of No. 134

but a sokier's and fireman's pension. The two shared the flat with Barney McCotter, an engineer. Mrs. Senich cared for the bouse.

Fagan, who is nearly blind, rose late to-day and not finding Mrs. Senich up knocked at her bedroom door. Receiving no reply and being too feeble to smash k in, he got John Savage, the janitor, to do k. Tre body of the old woman was found, lying as though death had gome in her sleep. One gas jet was half opened.

McCotter, who went home at 1 o'clock, menthoned to the policeman on his beat, Fitzpatrick, that there was a death in his flat. The policeman went upstairs and found undertaker's men from Eagan & Leach's place preparing the body. Fitzpatrick called up the Macdougal street station, and Detective Shea, on arriving, decided to detain Fagan had immediately notified br. Meyer, of No. 35 Charles street, who had been treating the woman and who in turn notified the Coroner, Fagan also had notified Mrs. Senich's two nieces.

His hand in a friendly way and exclusined:

"Why, how do you do, Mr. Grammont?"

Mr. Lawson colored but made no move. Mrs. Lawson smiled Mr. Mooney the raid:

"I charge Mr. Lawson with consumption the road on Carmichael's back, the pin this new bride and for their friends."

The lawyer said that he regarded these expenditures as bribery. In concluding he said Mrs. Lawson:

"This man deserted her. He is so might with his mooney that he thinks he can take the law in his own hands. We will show him he is mistaken."

Justice Garretson's charge to the jury was eminently fair. He pointed out the distinction between bribery and legitimate expense, leaving it a question of fact for the jury to decide in the matter of Carmichael's testimony whether he could reasonably be supposed to have been influenced by the fact that he is receiving a salary from Mr. Lawson.

He also dwelt on the matter of proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

The jury went out at 4.25 o'clock.

CZEMA SKIN RAW AND FEVERISH-

Eczema is a tormenting, stub- ITCHING INTENSE born disease caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing redness, in flammation and almost intolerable itching. An inactive state of the sys em and sluggish condition of the eliminative members leaves the waste and refuse matter of the body to collect and sour instead of passing them off through nature's channels of bodily waste. The blood in its efforts to purge the system of all foreign matter absorbs this acid and throws it off through the pores and glands of the skin. The acrid humor seems to ooze ut and set the skin on fire, the straw colored, sticky fluid drying and rming crusts, and the itching is intense. When these pustules are ratched off the skin is left raw and feverish and often a solid sore is ormed and kept up by the constant escape of acids from the blood. applications of salves, powders, lotions etc. are desirable and should be sed because they allay the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative, because they cannot reach the seat of
